

Key points

- The majority of influenza identifications this year are type A(H1N1)pdm09
- Respiratory pathogen isolations in Canterbury are stable or reduced
- Influenza-like illness rates in the South Island are low
- This is the last influenza and respiratory pathogens report for 2018

Influenza viruses and the four commonest other respiratory pathogens in Canterbury (and West Coast)

Influenza	This week	Last week	Year to date	Other pathogens	This week	Last week	Year to date
A(H1N1)pdm09	14 (0)	25 (1)	462 (12)	Rhinovirus	26 (0)	12 (0)	487 (16)
A(H3N2)	1 (0)	0 (0)	2 (0)	RSV	1 (1)	2 (0)	280 (14)
B	1 (0)	2 (0)	55 (0)	Coronavirus	2 (0)	2 (0)	172 (5)
				Parainfluenza	7 (0)	7 (0)	160 (11)

Community influenza-like illness rates (per 100,000 pop.) by DHB

Notified respiratory diseases by week 2018

